Subject: Truck Convoy - Weekend of January 29th-30th

Good morning Community Partners,

As you are likely aware, a Truck Convoy is making its way to Ottawa this weekend. Our Special Events section is in contact with the organizers and is monitoring the progression of the convoy.

Although not all specific details are known, I wanted to advise you to expect significant traffic disruptions in the downtown core and the Byward Market. Appropriate police resources will be deployed to mitigate any safety risks and OPS is obviously working with other law enforcement partners.

Please follow @OttawaPolice and @Ottawa_Traffic on Twitter for any updates. I will also disseminate any information I receive to this distribution list.

Thank you for sharing this email widely within your agencies as well as with any other contact you feel can benefit from receiving this information.

Cordially,

As a follow-up to this correspondence, the Mayor's office has asked if they can share what was sent to the BIAs to send to the Coalition of BIAs, which has reached out to them for information.

As per the below, is there a document that we can share with them?
Thank you

Thanks Seb...

What came up on the meeting this afternoon is Councillors want one point of contact for information.

At this time @ottawapolice (twitter) will have updated demonstration info and @ottawa_traffic (twitter) will have updated traffic info. Our website, ottawapolice.ca will have a prominent link on the home page to the latest info we can offer.

A news release is going out this afternoon from us and the City is sending one out too.

Thanks Julie.

I bcc emailed 70 + community stakeholders with the message I had drafted approved by Corp Comms and Special Events Tuesday morning. I can't think of anyone I would've missed but if there are I will email them when I get the list down from the Chief.

This must have been considered and there are possibly good reasons why it isn't being done, but has the City or OPS considered "simply" sending out a Media Release?

That's great.

Will there be discussions/updates from OPS to Councillor McKenney and Councillor Fleury as their wards will likely be most impacted by the demonstration?

Councillor McKenney has been reaching out to us and we expect Councillor Fleury to also be reaching out. We can share info about City service impacts, but we would prefer to redirect them to OPS if they have questions that falls in your area of responsibility.

Christine Leadman (cleadman@bankstreet.ca) from the Brank Street BIA reached out to Councillor Mckenney.

She was asking the councillor if it was possible a contact number/person for members to call should there be any issues with this protest?

Our Community Police Officers are in touch with downtown BIAs and providing them with updates to expect large crowds and traffic disruptions. We cannot tell them to stay open or to close, but some businesses may elect to close so as not get tied up in an anti-vax demonstration in their establishment.

Hi Julie,

Do you know if OPS is or will be in discussion with the some of the BIAs that could see big impacts?

I recall OPS having these types of discussions for previous events. Is that the case for this event?

Thanks
Ghislain
